Online Safety

Many young people find gaming a fun, relaxing and social activity. It provides a source of connection, can develop skills in creativity and support future technical careers. Gaming can also be associated with poor sleep, aggression and anxiety.

It often feels difficult for us as parents to create a healthy balance of screen time for our children. You can visit this page which has a helpful video and other links with supportive resources.

Happy New Year! (恭贺新禧!)

On Thursday, we enjoyed a visit from Claire and Lou from MEAS (Minority Ethnic Achievement Service) in assembly to share the customs and stories associated with Chinese new year - the year of the snake began on Wednesday this week. We enjoyed learning about some of the customs and how they are both similar and different to New Year celebrations in the UK; we also learned about the legend of the beast Nian as well as having a go at our own dragon dance!

新年快樂
